How to apply

Information for prospective international students

2 // The university – HTWK Leipzig

Leipzig University of Applied Sciences was founded in 1992. With a total of more than 6500 students, it is one of the largest universities of applied sciences in Germany. The distinguishing characteristic of HTWK Leipzig is its practice-oriented study, which enables students to achieve accredited bachelor's or master's degree qualifications after an intensive and short period of study. Studying at HTWK Leipzig is oriented towards the demands and requirements of the world of employment and prepares students for challenging academic careers in the fields of engineering, economics, social sciences and cultural studies.

The advantages of studying at HTWK Leipzig:

- » No tuition fees
- » A low-priced semester ticket for local public transport
- » An individual study atmosphere with studying in small groups
- » State of the art facilities with new laboratories and studios
- » High practical orientation—strong research departments
- » Active campus life with all facilities located within close proximity
- » A family-friendly university
- » Leipzig: a student city with international flair

Leipzig – a vibrant city for students

With its cosmopolitan and creative atmosphere, Leipzig has always been a popular student location. The city, which is home to more than 600,000 residents, has many different names, for example “the city of trade and trade fairs”, “the city of books and media” and “the city of science and culture”.

When it comes to young people, Leipzig offers a wide range of attractions and activities around the clock, be it music, theatre, political satire and comedy, film or sports. Students also love to spend the night chatting away in one of the city’s many cafés, student clubs, pubs or hotspots. The “Neuseenland” lake district and the many green parks located in and around the city complete Leipzig’s broad spectrum of leisure and recreational opportunities.

Prominent figures such as Goethe, Lessing, Leibniz and Kästner all chose Leipzig as a place to study and year after year for more than 600 years, young people have been following in their footsteps, making Leipzig their study location and second home. The “Thomanerchor” boys’ choir and Gewandhaus Orchestra are closely connected to Johann Sebastian Bach and Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy and are ambassadors of Leipzig’s vibrant and rich culture and spirit far beyond the borders of the city.

Becoming a guest listener

As a guest listener /guest student you can attend lectures and find out whether studying at HTWK Leipzig is a good fit for you. You will get to know the campus, the other students and our teaching staff. However, you do not partake in exams and will not get ECTS.

Registration: Beginning of March (summer) / September (winter). Please make an appointment with us to discuss your options.

- » You start the application via the organisation uni-assist e.V. (uni-assist.de/en). They check whether educational achievements are recognised in Germany, convert grades into the German grade system and assess language certificates.
- » It is possible to submit applications to different universities at the same time. The first application costs 75€, the following one(s) 30€ [Feb. 2023].
- » If you do not have a qualification allowing direct admission to a German university, the preparatory course will be held at the Foreign Students' College of the Zittau/Görlitz University of Applied Sciences. This includes two options:
 - › Either one year of subject-related and linguistic preparation (focus on technology or economics) after which you will be required to pass the “Feststellungsprüfung” (FSP, includes German C1) university qualification examination or
 - › Half a year of linguistic preparation after which you must successfully pass the DSH examination at least at level C1. For the bachelor's study programmes in Social Work,

10 // International Management and Business Administration,

14 // Which entry and residence regulations apply to international applicants?

Applicants from the European Union and from Iceland, Norway, Switzerland or Liechtenstein are excluded from the visa requirement. Applicants from Australia, Brazil, Israel, Japan, Canada, New Zealand, South Korea and the United States of America can apply for a visa after having arrived in Germany.

Applicants from all other countries require a valid passport with a visa or a residence permit for study purposes. A tourist visa is not sufficient and cannot be changed into a visa for study purposes after arrival.

If you need to attend the Studienkolleg (FSP course) or the DSH German class you will receive a conditional admission with an invitation to the placement test, which takes place at the beginning of February and the end of August each year, at the Studienkolleg Zittau/Görlitz. If you do not pass you can try again the following semester. There are no other dates and the test always takes place in Zittau, not online.

The placement tests for the FSP course and the DSH class are taking place simultaneously. If you plan to arrive via airplane we recommend the airports in Berlin (BER), Dresden (DRS) or Leipzig (LEJ). From there you need to take a train to the city of Zittau. The specific address can be found in your conditional admission.

You need to present the following documents at the placement test:

- » Passport with a visa or residence permit
- » Conditional admission with invitation to the placement test

You can book a dorm room in Zittau for the day of the test or for all 3-4 days until the results will be published. Passing the test is necessary to start a dorm room contract for the duration of the FSP course or DSH class.

Short link regarding Zittau student housing: lmy.de/ur4sG

Finance your studies with BAföG

Refugees with a residence permit (e.g. §24 or §25 AufenthG) can apply for BAföG. BAföG is a federal student loan of max. 934,- €/month (last checked: April 2023). You can find out online (lmy.de/gyeEiWCR) or via the BAföG-Amt of Studentenwerk Leipzig (lmy.de/pubVCgCU) whether you fulfil the conditions to apply.

Five years after graduation you must pay back half of the loan, but no more than 10,010 € or 77 monthly instalments.

More information: lmy.de/CkhqcUml

16 // Cost of living

This section is designed to give a rough idea of what to expect in terms of overall costs during your studies at HTWK Leipzig. The cost of living of course depends on your individual lifestyle and may vary.

Please note: For the visa application you have to prove you are able to pay for your living expenses. The required amount is about 935 € multiplied with the number of months your visa will be valid. The total amount (11,220 euros/year) must be presented at the start of the visa process via a blocked account.

More information: study-in-germany.de/en/plan-your-studies/requirements/proof-of-financing/

Semester fee of about 270 €/semester

All HTWK Leipzig students are required to pay a fee at the beginning of each semester to cover for Studentenwerk (e.g. student services, residences and cafeteria), public transportation and student organizations.

Health insurance of about 120 €/month

As an international student in Germany, you are required to have sufficient health insurance coverage. At HTWK Leipzig, this means you will have to take out a health insurance in Germany and present proof of your coverage before you are allowed to enroll at HTWK Leipzig. The requirement to take out a health insurance in Germany may only be waived if your home country insurance is also valid in Germany and is recognised as sufficient here. This applies, first and foremost, to the countries of the European Union.

Estimated Cost of Living 600-900 €/month

Compared to other European countries, the cost of living in Germany is quite reasonable. The prices for food, accommodation, clothing, leisure activities, cultural events, etc. are generally equivalent to the EU average. Compared with other popular study destinations such as France, Britain and the Netherlands, prices are actually quite low. Moreover, Leipzig is widely known for being particularly affordable if you're on a student budget.

- » housing (student residences): approx. 200-400 €/month plus an additional refundable security deposit of about 300 €
- » living expenses (moderate life style): approx. 400-500 € per month
- » examples:
 - › sports group at HTWK Leipzig: 10-35 €/semester
 - › public TV & radio licence (obligatory in Germany): 18.40 €/month
 - › meal at the HTWK canteen: 3-5 €
 - › public transport: included in semester fee
 - › cinema: 5-11.50 €

18 // Working while studying

It is very common for international students to also have a job. Students holding a student visa however may usually only work for 120 full or 240 half days per year. (Mandatory internships are exempt from this rule.) Most European students have free entry to the labour market. Please note: During the first year of study preparation (FSP/DSH) working is not permitted.

Living in Leipzig

Student housing

Once you have an approval notice for a degree (not the conditional admission for Zittau) you can apply for student housing at the Studentenwerk Leipzig. Living there will make it easier to get in touch with other students and all the rooms are furnished, as well as mostly close to the campus.

studentenwerk-leipzig.de/en/housing

Flat shares (Wohngemeinschaften, WG)

In a flat share (WG) a couple of students share a whole flat including bathroom and kitchen. You can find flat shares via online portals (e.g. wg-gesucht.de, wg-suche.de).

If you cannot move into your student housing immediately upon your arrival or if you want to look for private housing after you have arrived, we recommend booking a room (hotel, hostel, Airbnb, vacation apartment) for the first nights, prior to your arrival.
